

APRIL 09

anklebiter

Hello all!

You may be wondering what the heck has been happening at Anklebiter HQ lately as the website hasn't been updated for ages!!! Here is the low down... I am 32wks pregnant with my second child and have had a crappy pregnancy, especially in the first trimester. I had strict instructions from my doctor and family to slow down and look after myself and my health and therefore I had no choice but to take a step back from the business, which meant putting the summer line on hold sadly. When I started planning this business I wasn't married and the plan was I really wanted to stay at home with my kiddies and work from home, as I am by nature a busy bee who can't keep still! Anyway I got married during the planning process, then luckily got pregnant on our honeymoon and opened the business when I was 6mths pregnant. I truly never ever envisaged how much time and energy a business like this takes up together with the demands of children, and I although I love it 100% and wouldn't have it any other way - it is full on!!! Add to that a terrible pregnancy and tadaaaa it all got on top of me. Anyway I just wanted to give you a run down on what has been happening as I know everyone was desperate to see the summer line and purchase the gear. My deepest apologies.

Just to keep you all in the loop I have been deciding whether or not to sell up... but have finally decided to hang on to it for now and re-access the situation in 2010. In the meantime I am going to take some time out starting next month when number 2 arrives. I will not be re-stocking any garments this year so get in quick.

Just when all the sales are ending - ours is just starting!! I am throwing MASSIVE clearout sale with 15-50% off ALL garments - summer + winter!! So you can get our fab gear at awesome prices while stocks last.

Oh yes also we are currently not stocking Tip Toey Joeys as the pricing has gone up and I just feel they are getting too expensive for shoes for under 2's. This may change in the future but at present we will have a break, Anyway I hope you, and your families, are all happy and healthy !

Best wishes to you all and happy shopping! www.anklebiter.co.nz
